Bonjour! JetBlue is starting service from Paris this summer!

On 7 March, JetBlue announced that its highly anticipated entrance to Continental Europe with nonstop service from New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK) to Paris Charles de Gaulle Airport (CDG) was on as available for sale. Service will begin June 29, 2023. This marks JetBlue's second transatlantic market debut, following the airline's successful launch of London service in August 2021, including its highly acclaimed, reimagined Mint and core experiences. "We are excited to continue disrupting the transatlantic market and offer business and leisure customers traveling to and from Paris an opportunity to experience our highly acclaimed Mint and core products in a market that has suffered from high fares by legacy carriers for far too long."
