Special meals on flights to/from LON/AMS/PAR

All JetBlue transatlantic flights include a meal and pre-arrival snack – this is for customers travelling in Core and Mint! Upon boarding, customers get to select their choice of meals from the menu provided in Mint, or the touchscreen in the seat in front of them in both Mint and Core.

Special meals are available however, not all special meals need to be requested prior to the flights. Gluten and vegetarian meals are always included in the dining options for customers traveling in Core; therefore, it is not necessary to reserve these before the flight.

The following meals can be requested for customers travelling in Core: Kosher, Hindu, and Muslim meals. Gluten-free and vegan/vegetarian requests will come back as unable!

The meal set up in Mint is different and as such, customers traveling in Mint can order different special meals. The following meals can be requested in Mint:

Gluten free, Low Calorie, Vegan, Plane Meals, Kosher, Hindu, and Muslim meals.

All meals can be requested up to 24 hours before departure.

JetBlue awarded with the FOCUS ESG Leadership Recognition Award

The award was presented during the FOCUS Travel Partner Conference in Belfast for JetBlue’s commitment to sustainability.

‘It’s a tough category, but this airline has set a target of getting to net-zero by 2040, a decade ahead of many other airlines. They believe flying is a ‘net good’ and invest in solutions that allows travellers not to pay a ‘green premium’ whilst also growing sustainably. They re-use and recycle in any way shape and form and identify that ESG touches all parts of their business.’

The team is extremely honoured!
