Rethinking airplane food with Dig

* While this aircraft is not configured with an oven for core seating, JetBlue worked with NYC-based culinary partner DIG to design an innovative and high-quality menu that more closely aligns with the beloved culinary experience on JetBlue's A321 Long Range transatlantic routes.

* Upon launch, options for core customers will include inventive, fresh ingredient dishes such as crepes with smoked turkey, brie and caramelized onion jam; herb and cheese frittata; pesto pasta salad with grilled chicken; and sesame noodles with ginger garlic tofu, carrots and daikon.

* Reusable dishes and earth-friendly cutlery reduce environmental footprint.

* Complimentary beer, wine and liquor, and a Pantry with self-serve snacks.

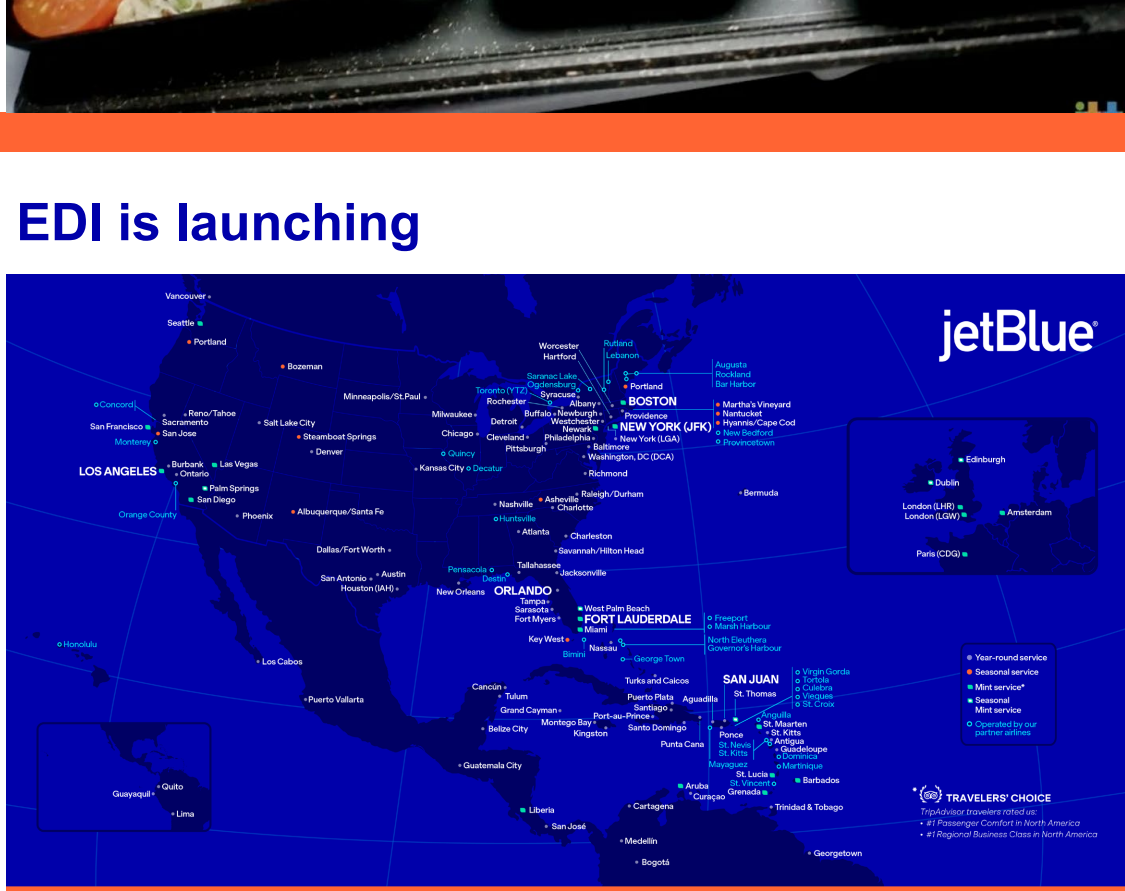

Eastbound – The JetBlue Core Dining Experience

All dishes in JetBlue's Core & Even More Space are served chilled with a choice of:

- Chicken Grain Bowl – balsamic chicken, green lentils, tri-colour quinoa, herbs & tarragon mustard*
- Ginger Garlic Tofu – chilled soba noodles, apple cider garlic sauce, pickled daikon & carrots
- Market Sides (included)
- Beet Carrot Slaw – shredded beet and carrot salad, candied sunflower seeds*
- Green Beans – steamed green beans, garlic sundried tomato pesto*

Where we jet

J.D. POWER HAS NAMED JetBlue IN THE TOP 5 AIRLINES FOR MINT (BUSINESS), CORE (ECONOMY) AND OUR EMS SEATS RECENTLY PUBLISHED BY THE POINTS GUY.

The annual airline rankings incorporate survey results from recent travellers on a slew of factors that contribute to the air travel experience. Factors include ease of travel, interactions with staff, on-board experience and value for price paid.

Finally, the report specifically noted significant investments in staff training and the overall flight experience as major contributing factors for airlines that saw top scores; this is particularly true in the face of record-setting crowds at airports in 2023.
